Status Reports
    - Jabber Side
        - Loudmouth compiles and links
        - Apparently it sent a message
        - form of messages - decide before break
    -Inkscape Side
        - proper change information
                - to be determined tomorrow
        - At what point in inkscape will the change message be sent
        - Where do we catch the changes?
                - to be determined tomorrow
        - What is the initial information & how will it be sent?
                - still uncertain, but solid leads
How do we feel about revised goals for this week?
What happens if we cannot get loudmouth to link?
Form of our additions
        - How will our changes be incorporated into inkscape alongside of any concurrent changes?
                - standard comment on line?
        - How do they handle this sort of thing currently?
                - cvs diff
Comments?
    - Great time, good job on the part of timekeeper
